IVES SUGGESTS PLAN ON RATES

Declaring that only shippers and common carriers are able to adjust proper freight rates, Chairman Ives of the Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, advocates conferences between these two interests rather than appealing to the courts or to commissions. Mr. Ives

"A general reference of rates to the decision of a court or a commission is certain to result in rates less uniform and more on intrigue and less and less on commercial necessities.

"This would injure the whole country, which is now grown up under exactly opposite conditions. Rates have often been made almost regardless of distance in order to move a commodity which could be most economically and well made in one section of the country to another district where it was required for it but so empty.

"No commission or court could order such rates. They can be made only when shippers and carriers cooperate on the theory of extending the trade of all the country and that the rates will encourage the minimum portmout."

STATE ST. NEWS FOR INVESTORS

International exchange movements suggest that gold may shortly be imported from London, and possibly Paris.

If this is a bear market it must run its course. Perhaps it is near the bottom now. The fact that the banking element is not so pessimistic as many think it is, may be taken as a sign that the market is not so far from the bottom as it seems.

Operators will have a fondness for the stop-loss order as a means for feeling for the bottom. The order is a device for selling a stock at a certain price, and it is a device for feeling for the bottom. ONE YEAR OF TAFT VS. SEVEN YEARS OF THE BIG NOISE.

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Your editorial on the accomplishment of the Taft administration is a plain truth and should be spread broadcast.

It is not fair, also, to add that in accordance with a much President Taft has not thrown any of his millions into the "Big Noise" nor, in any opinion, the direct cause of the present depression brought on by the "Big Noise" has been brought to unhappiness as property to any one's hands.

It would be strange that the greater part of the fault should be with the Taft Administration and not with the "Big Noise" camp.
